Tempe Studio Artists Exhibition

Sept. 22 - Dec. 5, 2003

This exhibition highlighted the artwork of artists involved with the Tempe Studio Artist Program. The Studio Artists Program is a partnership between Tempe Elementary District #3 and the city of Tempe Cultural Services Division.

The Studio Artists Program provides art instruction for fourth and fifth grade students within the Tempe Elementary School District. Artists in the program live and work in the Phoenix Metropolitan area and bring their own personal creative experience to the teaching process in the classrooms.

The Studio Artists Program aims to inspire students to achieve more in the arts as they pursue their education and life. Artists introduce students and teachers to creative and relevant arts activities. This unique partnership offers students an opportunity to expand their understanding of the arts and interact with a professional artist from the community.

Kim Henkel, is a sculptor who works in cast bronze, aluminum, plaster and fabricated steel.

Mary Dieterich has been a tapestry weaver for more than 20 years and exhibits her works worldwide.

Kirby Soderberg, an artist with degrees in theatre and photography, also received a Bachelor of FUN Arts at the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey College.

Candice Eisenfeld, a painter, was featured in Southwest Art Magazine in an article highlighting young artists.

Niki Glen, an artist, works in various mediums, often working collaboratively on public art projects with schools and neighborhoods.

Doree Nissenblatt, a sculptor with a back-ground in ceramics and public art, created a mural inside Gentle Strength Cooperative.
